

I enjoy my privacy without annoying phone calls. I didn't ask for calls because people still need the relaxation from the stress of dealing with people who could care less how many hours you may have worked that day, or if you've lost a loved one, as long as they can sell what they want. How about I call them when it's inconvenient for them !!!!!!!!! If I want to buy something or contribute to a charity I'll call them. I'm sure there are thousands of people like me that feel the same way that's why they got on this list to begin with Thank you for no phone calls about this!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
